REMINDER:

1. We give you FOUR books to read for FOUR weeks.
2. At the end of the weeks you have to return all of Four books with adding ONE more to it.
3. One POETRY book is compulsory (because of its less pages) so that have enough time to read all three books (fat or not) in time.
4. The selection is limited to TWO books per genre and not more.
5. The list of the books is uploaded in the website with an available option and which you can pick to your accord and fill the required form by listing all your books choices.
6. The form should be mailed to pustakpreet@gmail.com

7. We will then confirm you via instagram by sending you photos of the books you asked to read for further confirmation.
8. If you agree to move forward then you also have to dm us the book which you are going to give us for making the decision mutual.
9. It's onto you if you want to give your book before or after reading the four books. However, we will like to strongly suggest that you give at the time we drop you our books. So, that it can be uploaded in our site for others to keep in loop.
10. You can set your own set of time, date and location (if possible us not negotiating) and we will drop you the books.
11. We are more than happy to receive more than one books too.
12. HAPPY READINGS!

ABOUT BOOKS:

1. Try not to write, highlight, spoil or temper the pages.
2. If something in the books hits you, you can always make a small note for future readers and leave it as a bookmark there.

ABOUT US:

We are very small community of readers which is looking at the very heart of every reader trying find that is something relatable to all of us and yet not been able to address it in unison. As many as books gets published our 'to be read' lists keep on increasing making it less probable for us to buy every one of those. Hence, to meet our 'tbr' list with our love for book (pustakpreet), we think it is an easy solution to lend our books to each other. It can be this circulation that will push us to read more and yet become hungry desirously. We love you to share your participation with us and to those who will be unanimously benefited from you. If this all sounds too formal and too complicated you can always message us in instagram and we will get to you as simple as possible. To sum up, a reading quote that may fashion you 'if you haven't read today then you haven't lived today.'

Thank you for being an intrinsic part of a whole!
